

Tree Selection Guide

Western hemlock

Tsuga heterophylla

- Evergreen coniferous tree
- Cone bearing tree
- Native to Washington state
- Mature height: 100 feet or more
- Mature crown spread: 30 feet or more
- Sun: Partial shade
- Soil Moisture: Moist
- Attracts birds

Noble fir

Abies procera

- Evergreen coniferous tree
- Cone bearing tree
- Native to Washington state
- Mature height: 100 feet or more
- Mature crown spread: 30 feet or more
- Sun: Full sun

Western red cedar

Thuja plicata

- Evergreen coniferous tree
- Cone bearing tree
- Native to Washington state
- Mature height: 100 feet or more
- Mature crown spread: 30 feet or more
- Sun: Full to partial sun
- Soil: Medium moisture

Vine maple

Acer circinatum

- Deciduous tree or shrub
- Native to Washington state
- Mature height: 25 feet or more
- Mature crown spread: 25 feet or more
- Sun: Full to partial sun
- Soil: Medium moisture
- Flowering
- Colorful fall foliage
- Attracts birds

Cascara buckthorn

Frangula purshiana

- Deciduous tree or shrub
- Native to Washington state
- Mature height: 25 feet or more
- Mature crown spread: 25 feet or more
- Sun: Full to partial sun
- Soil: Moist, well-drained
- Colorful fall foliage

Ocean Spray

Holodiscus discolor

- Deciduous shrub
- Native to Washington state
- Mature height: 15 feet or more
- Mature crown spread: 15 feet or more
- Sun: Partial shade
- Soil: Medium moisture
- Flowering
- Small space suitable
- Safe under power lines
- Attracts birds and butterflies

Western Serviceberry

Amelanchier alnifolia

- Deciduous shrub
- Native to Washington state
- Mature height: 12 feet or more
- Mature crown spread: 10 feet or more
- Sun: Full to partial sun
- Flowering
- Edible fruit
- Colorful fall foliage
- Small space suitable
- Safe under power lines
- Attracts birds and butterflies

Black Hawthorn

Crataegus douglasii

- Deciduous tree or shrub
- Native to Washington state
- Mature height: 30 feet or more
- Mature crown spread: 30 feet or more
- Sun: Partial shade
- Soil: Wet
- Flowering
- Edible fruit
- Colorful fall foliage
- Attracts birds and butterflies

Garry Oak

Quercus garryana

- Deciduous tree
- Native to Washington state
- Mature height: 90 feet or more
- Mature crown spread: 125 feet or more
- Sun: Full sun
- Soil: Dry
- Flowering

